More Than a Friend!

Dogs, called St. Bernards, are more than a friend! St. Bernards are heroes. These dogs have saved many lives! Over the past 300 years, they have saved more than 2,000 lives.

The big dogs were named after an area in the Swiss Alps. It was called St. Bernard Pass. This pass is cold and snowy. Many people have needed help getting through this area.

These big dogs have thick coats of fur. This helps keep them warm. They can stay out in the cold for a very long time. They also have a great sense of smell. This sense has helped them find people buried under snow.

St. Bernards are calm. They make very good pets. They like to run and play. They do not like warm weather—they like it cold!
