Learn to Read 120 Words within Meaningful Content

This book supports the NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts and the recommended teaching practices outlined in the NAEYC/IRA position statement Learning to Read and Write: Developmentally Appropriate Practices for Young Children

NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts

Each activity in this book supports one or more of the following standards:

- 1. Students read many different types of print and nonprint texts for a variety of purposes. Sight Word Stories includes 25 humorous and predictable reproducible storybooks that support children in learning sight words and other easy-to-phonically-read words.
- 2. Students use a variety of strategies to build meaning while reading. The stories in this book, along with accompanying activities, support students in learning essential sight words and other easy-to-phonically-read words.
- 3. Students use spoken, written, and visual language for their own purposes, such as to learn, for enjoyment, or to share information. The 25 storybooks in Sight Word Stories are designed to be reproduced and sent home with students, helping to build personal libraries. The engaging stories will motivate students to read independently and the skill-building activities will support students in becoming more effective independent readers and writers.
