Standards Correlation for Photographic Learning Cards—Things That Go Together

This product supports the NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts, the recommended teaching practices outlined in the NAEYC/IRA position statement Learning to Read and Write: Developmentally Appropriate Practices for Young Children, and the NCTM Principles and Standards for School Mathematics.

NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts

This product supports the following standards:

- 1. Students read many different types of print and nonprint texts for a variety of purposes. Things That Go Together includes 46 images for students to interpret and match.
- 2. Students use a variety of strategies to build meaning while reading. The activities in this set help build background knowledge and observational skills that are essential to effective reading.
- 3. Students communicate in spoken, written, and visual form, for a variety of purposes and a variety of audiences. Students communicate verbally when classifying the photographs in this set and describing why they do or do not go together.
- 4. Students whose first language is not English use their first language to learn English and to understand content in all curriculum areas. This product is ideal for use with English language learners as the images can be used to build vocabulary, classification, and observational skills both in their first language and in English. In addition, all classifications and activity instructions are available in English, Spanish, and French.
- 5. Students become participating members of a variety of literacy communities. Because this set includes group activities, it is a very effective way to help build a classroom literacy community.
