This product supports the NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts and the recommended teaching practices outlined in the NAEYC/IRA position statement Learning to Read and Write: Developmentally Appropriate Practices for Young Children.

NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts

This product supports the following standards:

- 1. Students read many different types of print and nonprint texts for a variety of purposes. Students read the pictures and the words in this set in order to identify objects around the classroom.
- 2. Students use a variety of strategies to build meaning while reading. This set builds word recognition skills essential to effective reading.
- 3. Students communicate in spoken, written, and visual form, for a variety of purposes and a variety of audiences. Students write when creating the individual classroom label dictionaries suggested in this set.
- 4. Students whose first language is not English use their first language to learn English and to understand content in all curriculum areas. The pictures in this set enable English language learners to associate words in their first language with the words they are learning in English.

NAEYC/IRA Position Statement Learning to Read and Write:
Developmentally Appropriate Practices for Young Children

This product supports the following recommended teaching practices for preschool students:

- 1. Adults create positive relationships with children by talking with them, modeling reading and writing, and building children's interest in reading and writing. When introducing the pictures and words in this set, teachers model reading for their students.
- 2. Teachers provide and draw children's attentions to print-rich learning environments. Since the cards in this set are used to label various classroom objects, they are an important part of a print-rich learning environment.
- 3. Teachers provide experiences and materials that help children expand their vocabularies. This set introduces 40 words for common classroom objects.

This product supports the following recommended teaching practices for kindergarten and primary grades students:

- 1. Teachers provide opportunities for students to write many different kinds of texts for different purposes. Students write their own classroom label dictionaries in order to help them learn the words in it.
- 2. Teachers provide challenging instruction that expands children's knowledge of their world and expands their vocabularies. This set introduces 40 words for common classroom objects.
